

Biography: Physician Trainer

Randall L. Rasmussen, M.D. joined Lifeline Vascular Access in 2006 as Vice President Provider Relations. Prior to joining Lifeline Vascular Access, Dr. Rasmussen served as founder, Medical Director and COO of the Dialysis Access Center in Oakland, California. Dr. Rasmussen has been exclusively performing interventional procedures since 1997. Between 1997 and 2004, he had performed over 3,000 procedures at Alta Bates Hospital in Berkeley, California and at the Dialysis Access Center in Oakland, California. During his tenure at the Dialysis Access Center, Dr. Rasmussen's responsibilities included supervising the teaching of Interventional Nephrology procedures to numerous clinical Nephrologists as well as University of California Davis School of Medicine Fellows.

Dr. Rasmussen received his M.D. degree from the Wayne State University School of Medicine in Detroit, Michigan. He completed his Nephrology fellowship at the University of California in San Francisco at Moffit Hospital and has served as an instructor at the University of California at Berkeley and as an Assistant Clinical Professor at the University of California Davis School of Medicine. Dr. Rasmussen is licensed in California, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maryland, Michigan, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, and Virginia.

Revised November 2008

Randall L. Rasmussen, M.D.
Vice President,
Provider Relations

“The advent of the vascular access center saw a marked improvement in the quality of patient care. The integration of dialysis access care provided at the centers ensures a higher degree of efficiency and success.”